Air passenger traffic slowed down in November

Both Calgary and Edmonton International Airports had a less busy month in November 2015. Calgary International Airport recorded just over 1 million passengers for the month, down 2.8% from November 2014. November constitutes the first month in 2015 to register a decline in domestic, transborder and international air traffic at Calgary International Airport, compared to November 2014. Edmonton International Airport welcomed 550,500 passengers in November, also down 2.8% compared to November 2014: international air traffic recorded a solid growth of 11.5% year-over-year, while domestic arrivals and departures remained flat. This was counterbalanced by a drop in transborder (United States) arrivals and departures (-17.3%).

Alberta's National Parks visitation continues its upward trend

Visitation to the three National Parks tracked continued its upward trend in 2015 (year-to-date: January–November). Waterton Lakes National Park led the pack with year-to-date growth of 15.2%, followed by Banff (growth of 8.2% year-to-date) and Jasper National Parks (5.5%). The month of August proved to be the only exception with regards to the upward trend in visitation, when combined total visitation to all three National Parks dipped marginally by 0.3% compared to the same month in 2014 (see chart below). More than 116,000 people visited Banff National Park in November 2015 (up 12.7% from November 2014), while Jasper National Park welcomed almost 42,000 visitors (4.7% increase compared to last November). Waterton Lakes welcomed 7,900 visitors in November, an impressive increase of 46.2% from last November. This was likely due to moderate weather in November.
